

Illicit Connections:

The City of Artesia owns only a minimal amount of storm drain consisting of two catch basin and laterals from each to County Flood Control storm drains. One is located in a side yard easement of a private lot. The other is located next to a city park and is across the street from city hall. There were no Illicit Connections and quite unlikely to ever occur at said locations.